

Recovery Guidebook ©2013

Rea of Hope has long been recognized nationally and by the state as a model program. Due to the impressive statistics of graduates that we follow 1 year post discharge we have been asked to open “Rea of Hopes” all over the state. While it has been very exciting to think of spreading our wings, the Board has decided to focus on what we do well and stay in Charleston. We did come up with a solution to share what we have learned with others who are interested in opening or running a program similar to ours; we put together the Rea of Hope Recovery Guidebook© which comes with extensive training and consultations for the new staff. We have received a large amount of interest and support since the announcement.
